

PIPA Product Passport <sup>TM</sup>

PIPA now offers all water products for sale with a new product passport. This unique approach to monitoring the use of equipment on potable water mains certifies that all products are constructed from MIC (materials in contact) compliant materials. The passport enables the user to log when and where the product is used and documents the equipment's service history.

The new passport scheme gives global water utilities confidence in the use of PIPA technology on their networks.
